LECTURER NAMED FOR SANDIN SERIES

The Fourteenth Annual Reuben Benjamin Sandin Lecture Series will be held May 20 through 23 and this year's lecturer will be Koji Nakanishi.

The series is sponsored by the Department of Chemistry to commemorate more than 40 years of outstanding service by Professor Reuben Sandin as a dedicated scholar and inspiring teacher of organic chemistry.

Dr. Nakanishi was born in Hong Kong and spent most of his childhood in France, England, and Egypt before returning with his family to Japan. He received both his BSc and PhD from Nagoya University and returned there as an assistant professor after two years of post-graduate work at Harvard. He held appointments at Tokyo Kyoiku and Tohoku universities before moving to Columbia University in 1969. Dr. Nakanishi's most noted contributions in the field of chemistry are the exciton chirality method and its application to configuration and conformational studies of natural products; the chemistry of insect hormones, including ecdysons and juvenile hormones; structure and synthesis of the Y base from yeast phenylalanine transfer ribonuclear acid; and the chemistry of visual pigments. He has written over 250 papers covering virtually every aspect of physiologically active natural products.

Professor Nakanishi is also an accomplished conjurer and will be presenting a special performance under the title "Nakanishi the magnificent" on May 21. This is open to everyone, wives and children being especially welcome.

Details of this and the lectures can be found listed under "This Week and Next."

GENERAL FACULTIES COUNCIL

The regular meeting of General Faculties Council was held April 28, 1975.

MSC IN FOREST SCIENCE

Council passed a motion of G.R. McGregor, Dean of the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research, recommending to the Board of Governors that a Master's program in Forest Science be approved. The program is research oriented and is designed to prepare the student for conducting research in any one of several aspects of forestry. Initially, four specific areas of study are proposed: (1) forest management, (2) forest ecology, (3) forest hydrology, and (4) wildland recreation.

The program will require between one and three years to complete, depending on the degree held by the student. When implemented, it will be the only graduate program in forestry available between Toronto and Vancouver.

MSC IN IMMUNOLOGY

Members passed a motion of G.R. McGregor, recommending that the Board of Governors approve a program offering a Master's degree in Immunology. The proposed program will be a research degree undertaken principally, if not completely, by graduates of honors programs in other scientific disciplines, involving completion of a program of research and a thesis. E. Diener, Chairman of the Department of Immunology, noted in a letter to Dr. McGregor that of the five departments participating in the interdisciplinary PhD in the Medical Sciences, only Immunology did not offer a master's program. Given its present staff and facilities, the department feels that the optimum number of students in the program at any one time would be five.

UNUSUAL ADMISSION OR READMISSION CASES

Members approved a recommendation of the Executive Committee which states that "Whereas General Faculties Council is empowered by the Universities Act [Section 34 (n)] to determine standards and policies respecting the admission of persons to the University as students, be it resolved that General Faculties Council delegates to Deans and Directors authority to make admission to (or continue enrolment in) a-Faculty or School subject to such conditions as the Dean or Director thinks fit in cases where the Dean or Director is of the opinion that such admission (or continued enrolment) would constitute a danger or risk of danger to University property or to students or staff at the University."

The issue was raised by R.G. Baldwin, Dean of the Faculty of Arts, who felt that some sort of policy statement was necessary dealing with admission or readmission of persons who have been involved in serious crimes of violence. Dr. Baldwin stressed that there were no such cases before him at the time, but that he wanted to know with what authority he could act when and if one were presented.

GUIDELINES FOR INSTRUCTORS

Council considered and approved the following guidelines recommended by A.D. Cairns, Registrar. "While instructors and students may arrange to the contrary, the following guidelines should normally be followed in the regular academic session:

- The instructor is required by General Faculties Council to announce at the beginning of the session the distribution of weight between term work and final examination, and the policy with regard to supplemental examinations. In particular, he should inform students during the first week of classes of the existence of any assignment, examination, or other course activity (e.g. class participation) to which 20 percent or more of the final term mark will be allotted;
- The instructor should inform students, by the time each assignment is given, of the approximate weight and importance of the assignment;
- The instructor should give students a reasonable time in which to complete an assignment, having regard to the weight and importance of the assignment;
- The instructor should mark and return to students with reasonable dispatch all term examinations and, provided the students submit them by the due date, all course projects, papers, essays, etc.;
- All projects, papers, essays, etc., should be returned on or by the last day of classes in the course, with the exception of a final major project or paper (which may be due on the last day of classes), which should be returned by the date of the scheduled final examination or, in non-examination courses, by the last day of the examination period."

Council also approved the following appeal procedures.

"Where the above guidelines have been agreed upon but not followed, the student may (1) follow the grievance procedures of the Faculty (or School) where the course is taught, or (2) where no such procedure has been established, appeal in turn to (a) the instructor concerned, (b) the chairman of the department in which the course is taught, (c) the Dean or Director (or his designate) of the Faculty or School in which the course is taught, and (d) General Faculties Council Executive Committee (through the Secretary to General Faculties Council)."

BOARD OF GOVERNORS

The Board of Governors and its Executive Committee met May 2, 1975.

QUOTA DECISIONS MADE

The Board approved certain recommendations with regard to admission to quota faculties and schools.

The first is that each quota must be approved by the Board, and the quota must be registered annually with the Secretary to the Board of Governors.

Members also agreed that, with their approval, special provisions may be made for a separate quota for certain students, for example, those in foreign aid or other programs sponsored by governments or agencies.

Although certain details with regard to residence requirements were referred back to General Faculties Council for clarification, the Board did approve recommendations that a minimum of five percent of the positions in any quota program shall be open to all applicants without regard to citizenship or residence, and a minimum of a further ten percent of the positions shall be open to all applicants who are Canadian citizens or residents of Canada.

The Board endorsed two resolutions from the University Senate: that the reasons for quotas, and the policies and practices pertaining to quotas which are adopted, be clearly stated and widely publicized; and that further discussion take place between the Board of Governors and the Department of Advanced Education to consider the political, sociological and academic implications of imposing a ceiling on the University enrolment.

GRADUATE STUDENT ASSISTANCE

The Board was requested by the Graduate Students' Association to strike a sub-committee to examine certain recommendations regarding graduate student assistance. It was pointed out, however, that a committee already exists for that purpose; hence, members agreed to direct the Graduate Assistance Policy Committee to study and report to the Board on the GSA recommendation. The GSA has asked for a report on Graduate Student Funding at the University, with particular attention to be given to two points:

1. The impact of inflation on the four main categories of student funding (scholarships and fellowships, bursaries and student loans, graduate assistantships, and research grants);
2. The inconsistencies in the rules and regulations governing student funding (both within and outside the University).

GRADUATE PROGRAM APPROVED

The Board has approved a request from the Department of Forest Science that the department be permitted to establish an MSc program in Forest Science. Approval of the program already has been given by the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research and by General Faculties Council.

THANK GOD IT'S ONLY THURSDAY!

It seems like only a few months ago that the first organizational meetings for the 1975 Learned Societies Conference were held here on campus; actually, more than a year has sneaked by as one busy month replaced the other and the planning for a conference of up to 6,000 delegates has taken shape. Just how productive those months have been will begin to become evident next week.

In some other era the sterling silver would have been polished; the sheers in the windows of Rutherford House would have been washed, ironed and re-hung; and the lawns and flower beds would have been carefully tended to.

While the landscaping is by no means being neglected, the 1975 approach to Learned Societies is a bold departure when compared to that of similar conferences held here during the University's early years. Within a few days bright yellow banners will be hung, new maps and modern signs will appear, and special television monitors connected to a central message centre will be installed in those buildings being used for the conference.

For every visible sign of preparation there have been many, many more behind-the-scene activities on which the success of the conference depends.

Arrangements have been made to accommodate many hundreds of delegates and their families. A shuttle bus service has been planned to carry them to their lodgings in the Lister Hall complex, St. Joseph's College or HUB. Large quantities of food and, yes, beverage have been ordered.

For some weeks now the presses and other mechanical wonders at Printing Services have been running from early morning to late at night turning out thousands of name tags, meal cards, parking permits, entertainment tickets, brochures, and programs that soon will be a familiar sight to all of us.

The program co-ordinators and local representatives for each society have drawn up schedules and have planned leisuretime events for their members. Some even have gone so far as to arrange to meet all their delegates at their point of arrival be it airport, train station or bus depot.

Plays are nearing dress rehearsal, musicians are tuning their instruments for a few more hours' practice, buses are being chartered for tours of the city.

The 1975 Learned Societies Conference will begin in slightly more than a week and all members of the University community are encouraged to participate in the events of the May 26 to June 7 period. Those of you who are members of a society that is meeting may pre-register by telephoning 432-5298 and requesting the appropriate form. Regardless of whether you're a member of one of the Learned Societies, there will be a wide range of events that are sure to interest many of you. Details will appear in a special issue of Folio to be distributed May 22; you are invited to read it, save it, and use it as your guide to the events surrounding the conference. —MED

SNOWMOBILING: ADVISORY COMMITTEE SEEKS RECOMMENDATIONS

The Department of Culture, Youth and Recreation of the provincial government has set up an advisory committee to study all aspects of snowmobiling.

The committee wishes to hear from individuals, associations, organizations, land owners, recreational groups, and industries, whether owning snowmobiles or not, to express their ideas and opinions.

The kinds of questions the committee is asking are: (1) Is snowmobiling a source of recreation to you or your family? (2) As a farmer, trapper, or industrial worker, has the snowmobile become a benefit to your way of life? (3) Do you think recreational snowmobiles should be used in specific areas only? (4) What regulations do you think should govern snowmobile operation as they relate to safety gear, horsepower, noise levels, operator training, age limits, and other factors?

Recommendations or proposals should be submitted to the Alberta Snowmobile Advisory Committee, c/o Government Recreation Committee, 14 floor, CN Tower, Edmonton, Alberta, T5J 0K5.
